

Wild at Heart Survey

Let's take stock and see where we are in the journey. This will be hard but rewarding. Rate each statement from 1 – 10 with 10 being the most true.

1. I think of my core desires as a man as a battle to fight, an adventure to live, and a beauty to rescue.
2. I clearly see my false self
3. I recognize that I have been either a violent, driven man or a retreating, passive man; sometimes both.
4. I clearly see that God has a battle to fight, an adventure and a beauty to rescue.
5. I am ok with the idea of men having wounds that really matter.
6. I have identified my wounds
7. I have identified the messages of my wounds.
8. I have identified the vows I have made because of my wounds.
9. I clearly see that I look for validation as a man.
10. I understand that I go to various false things for validation, especially to the woman.
11. I clearly see that true validation and initiation can only come from God.
12. I have walked away from my false self.
13. I have walked away from the woman as my validation.
14. I have grieved my wounds with Jesus and I grieve any new wounds with him.
15. I surrender my will to God
16. I have renounced my vows.
17. I let God love me.
18. I forgive my father.
19. I have received my new name / my identity from God.
20. I know the battle I have to fight.
21. I know my place in the battle.
22. I am using vision and cunning in the battle.
23. I believe that I have a new-covenant heart.
24. I clearly see the counterfeit battles, adventures, and beauties.
25. I see that Satan is quite real.
26. I don't let Satan intimidate me.
27. I don't let Satan cut a deal with me.
28. I know that I'm meant to be aggressive for the Kingdom.
29. I know that I have the weapons I need for the battle.
30. I can feel my fierce heart.
31. I understand that the question of the woman is "Am I lovely?"
32. I understand that the woman too is wounded.
33. I am fighting for the woman in my life.
34. I am offering her my strength to heal her wound and answer her question with a YES!
35. I don't take my question (am I a real man) to her.
36. I have found adventure in my work, my love life, and my spiritual life.
37. I have entered the frontiers of my deep desires and found my true calling.
38. I have an intimate walk with God.
39. I am completely dependent on God.
40. I am embracing risk with courage.